This is the first office action for application number 10/775,119, Pipe and Cable Support Apparatus and Method, filed on February 11, 2004.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-15 and 21-29, drawn to a support apparatus and a method for installing at least one pipe or cable in the support apparatus, classified in class 248, subclass 68.1.
- II. Claims 16-20, drawn to a roof cooling system, classified in class 239, subclass 208.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because it does not require a "means for snapping the support apparatus and another support apparatus together," "a plurality of projecting arms extending substantially in the radial direction," "at least one of the surfaces including a plurality of openings," or "snapping in the at least one of the pipe and cable into the cavity." The subcombination has separate utility such as with any of various pipes and cables, not necessarily in a roof cooling system.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Further, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species 1: The apparatus of figures 2A,3,4;

Species 2: The apparatus of figures 5,6;

Species 3: The apparatus of figure 7;

Species 4: The apparatus of figure 9;

Species 5: The apparatus of figure 10;

Species 6: The apparatus of figure 11.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic. It is noted that figures 1 and 8 are common to all species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Dick Turner on December 20, 2004 and December 22, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
